WILL ROGERS REMARKS:
BEVERLY HILLS, June 1. (To the Editor of the Times.) Shows you how quick even a President's plans can drop from public interest. Last summer Mr. Coolidge's vacation place was the one big news of the year. Now everybody's interest is "Where will One thing, they can't accuse Coolidge of trying to cater to the voter by going to a doubtful State. Wisconsin is never doubtful. You can always depend on it doing just exactly what the other forty-seven don't do. If the fish are as queer as the voters he will eat steak all summer.

WILL ROGERS.

MILLIONS IN TAX SAVED Trust Provision Economic
Pacific Coast Real Estate Interests Will be Freed of Burden Hardship of Recent Rule by Treasury Undone Through Congress

WILL ROGERS REMARKS:
WASHINGTON, June 1. (Exclusive)—The so-called Los Angeles amendment to the revenue law enacted by Congress at the session just ended means a potential tax saving of $10,000,000 to real-estate owners and trust companies in Los Angeles and Southern California with material, though somewhat smaller, savings for other sections of the State and for Oregon and Washington. In the opinion of Treasury experts and tax lawyers here, who are now analyzing the effects of the amendment, the amendment will undo the ruling of 1927, which reversed the Treasury's previous policy for taxing property trusts, and by holding a trusteeship trust to be taxable as a corporation put a tremendous burden of doubt and excessive taxation on the particular type of trust used in California and other Pacific Coast States. But for the amendment, the taxpayers would have been put to expensive and prolonged litigation even if ultimately they succeeded in upsetting the new Treasury ruling and got their money back.

MEXICO CITY, June 1. (Exclusive)—Maria Conesa, one of the greatest Spanish dancers and genre artists of her time, was arrested here today. She was taken out of her luxurious residence in Colonia Condessa and locked up at police headquarters as an accomplice of a former chief of the Presidential staff, Gen. Jose Alvarez, in wholesale contraband operations between the United States and Mexico. She was a close friend of President Calles and formerly a trusted aide. She faces deportation.

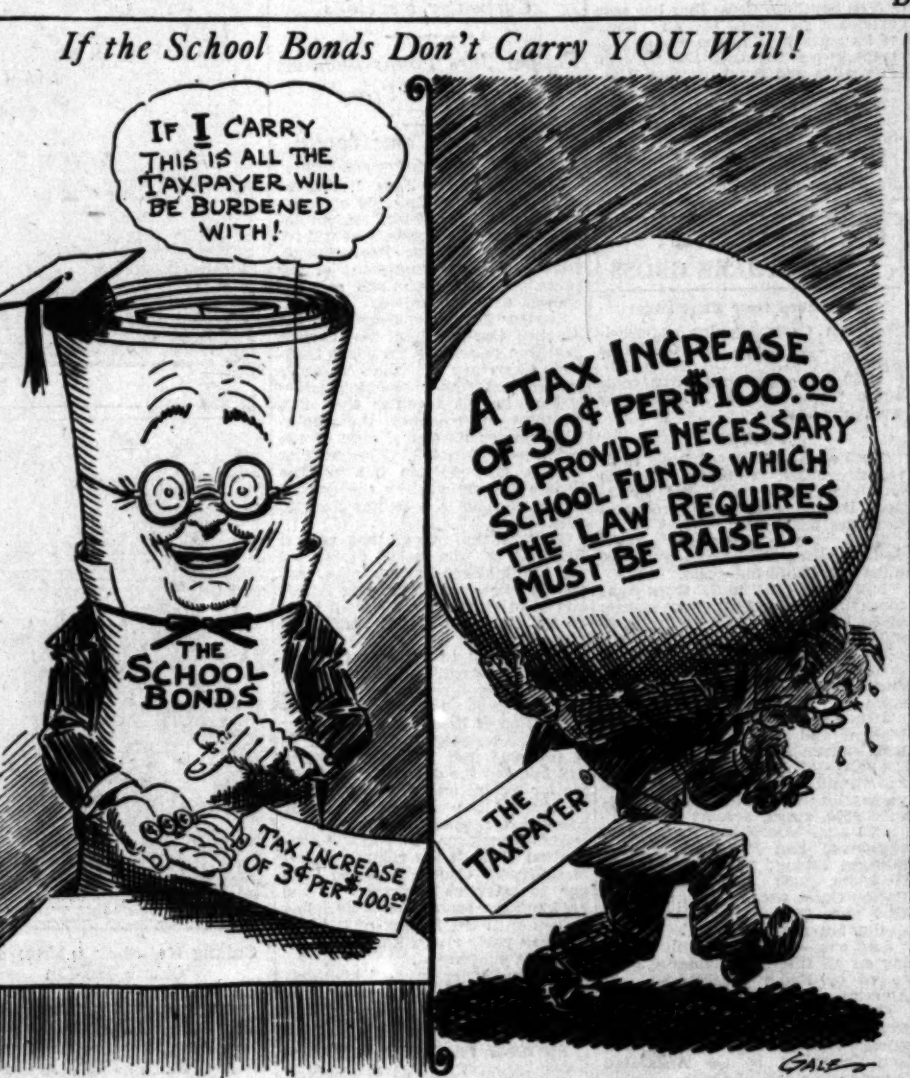

SHIPMENT BRINGS ARREST
An attempt to bring in twenty-two cases of silk from the United States without paying duty or freight resulted in the arrest of Gen. Alvarez Tuesday. The silk was valued at more than $1,000,000. Continuing their investigations into the contraband had been recovered. Seven others were located en route to Matamoros and Monterey. Teodoro Campa, Mexico's leading criminal lawyer, who had been retained by Gen. Alvarez to defend him, was given forty-eight hours to leave the country. He was put aboard a train for Vera Cruz this morning under a guard of plainclothes men.

LOG OF SOUTHERN CROSS
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The log of the monoplane Southern Cross on its 2400-mile flight to Hawaii, the first hop of the 7780-mile journey to Australia, follows:

THURSDAY
8:15 a.m.—Southern Cross, with crew of four, weighing seven tons and carrying 1200 gallons of gasoline, hopped off from Oakland Airport for Australia via Hawaii.
9:30 a.m.—Generator trouble reported.
10:30 a.m.—Altitude 3000 feet; everything O. K.
10:57 a.m.—Southern Cross asked for test signals to locate radio beacon to guide plane.
11:30 a.m.—Two hundred and forty miles southwest of San Francisco lightship, going good.
1:20 p.m.—Four hundred and twenty-five miles out.
1:30 p.m.—We are doing fine, speed, seventy-five miles, said message from Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, flight commander.
1:45 p.m.—Southern Cross radioed that steamer Wilhelmina was about 150 miles southwest; vessel being 600 miles southwest of San Francisco.
2:45 p.m.—Monoplane asked S.S. Wilhelmina for more definite bearings.
3:10 p.m.—Doing fine; six hours out. Altitude 1200 feet. Half-ton lighter and making better speed.
4:15 p.m.—Everything O.K. Visibility pretty good; altitude 1000 feet.
6:58 p.m.—Latitude 33 north, longitude 133 west; speed seventy knots. Going strong, altitude 1200 feet; sea smooth. Distance about 850 miles.
7:30 p.m.—Trying to take dinner; dark now.
8 p.m.—Flying over clouds. Out 880 miles from San Francisco.
8:30 p.m.—Sun is now in the west, down behind banks of rolling clouds.
9 p.m.—Just twelve hours after leaving field at Oakland, the western sky is still gray, illuminated by the sun. The clouds are drifting, altitude now 3500 feet.
9:20 p.m.—Steady flame is flowing out of the exhaust pipe. Motors are doing their duty loyally.
10:15 p.m.—"H" air pocket said message from Southern Cross picked up by Mackay Radio Company. Message said monoplane had struck a downward current and lost altitude.
10:25 p.m.—Mackay radio heard Southern Cross's radio set, which was running idle, indicating plane had recovered after downward plunge.
11 p.m.—Mackay radio reported (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Clew Obtained as Police

Telephone Wire

CHICAGO, June 1. (Exclusive)—Charles S. Wharton, former Representative, former assistant State Attorney and now a practicing lawyer residing in an exclusive section of the city, was indicted today, charged with being the "brains" of the Evergreen Park mail robbery in which $123,000 was stolen. Immediate arrest and bonds of $10,000 were demanded of Wharton, who is asserted to be the "brains" of the robbery gang.

Government detectives working on the robbery immediately after it was reported, tapped the telephone wires leading from the home of Charles (Limpy) Clew, President of the Chicago Police Association, at his home and telling him, "You'll find the stuff in a box on your back porch."

The "tuff," government detectives asserted, was several thousand dollars, being Wharton's share and a portion of the $123,000 lost in the Evergreen Park mail robbery.

"I know nothing at all about the case except what I have read in the newspapers," Attorney Wharton said today. "I have defended Clew on four different occasions and he is the only one of those indicted I ever saw. I am not afraid to go to trial as I am willing to meet any issue the government may have."

peals and which were but the forerunners of thousands of suits, which were in preparation and which would have been instituted within the next few months. All this litigation would have been costly to the government as well as to the taxpayers, and because of the volume undoubtedly would have caused delays of years in settling many of the cases.

Prior to the 1927 ruling, which provoked the controversy, the government for fourteen years, or ever since enactment of the first income tax law, had regarded these liquidating real-estate trusts as they are operating in California simply as trusts and had not regarded them as beneficiaries. This was a system satisfactory all the way around. Returns on the basis of income to be returned and the taxes paid by the beneficiaries. This was a system satisfactory all the way around. In June of 1924 it was held that the trust was not taxable and that the beneficiaries were not taxable until they had received back their investment. ## SIMILAR PLANE

IN SERVICE HERE

The airplane Southern Cross, which yesterday completed the flight from California to Hawaii, is an early model of the eight-passenger Fokker monoplane which Western Air Express, Inc., has been using for charter trips over Los Angeles and in which more than 100 Los Angeles persons have ridden. The plane is a duplicate of the local ship, except that space used for the storage of baggage has been utilized for an extra gas tank and there is a more complete assortment of navigation instruments.

SHORTCUTS ACTS

The amendment was introduced in the Senate Finance Committee by Senator Shortridge of California, acting mainly at the instance of Los Angeles interests. Alexander W. Clegg, former chief counsel of the government Tax Appeals Board, appeared to argue for the amendment. H. H. Ashley and H. H. Cotton of the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles, and C. C. Hogan of the Los Angeles Security Trust and Savings Bank came before on behalf of the amendment and assisted Clegg in preparing for the committee hearings.

Trust Companies of Southern California

The following organizations laid before the Senate committee, some sending witnesses also, to argue for it orally: Trust companies of Southern California, Seattle Trust Men's Association, Trust Companies' Association of Oregon, Clearinghouse Association of Los Angeles, Real Estate Commissioner of California, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, California Real Estate Board and Los Angeles Realty Board.

BUT IT SPANS SEA, ANYWAY

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—A craft made in part of the remnants of two wrecked planes carried the four-man crew of the monoplane Southern Cross safely over the 2400-mile span from Oakland, Cal., to Honolulu.

The creation of this latest craft to forge into the aviation limelight was explained today by R. B. C. Noorduyn, vice-president of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, which reversed the plane after several accidents in the early efforts of Capt. George H. Wilkins to fly to the North Pole.

and hailed by the nifty welcome of a city acclaiming courageous accomplishment, with stress and with shouts of thousands.

GREAT WELCOME

At Wheeler Field, twenty-four miles from Honolulu, the plane came down. Its flyers to receive the welcome of Hawaii's Governor, Wallace R. Farrington, of army and navy officers and of the citizenry of the islands.

Soon they will be off again, said the flyers, to Suva, 3138 miles, thence to Sydney, 1715 miles, finally to Sydney, 500 miles.

The plane flew at varying altitudes coming from Oakland, ranging from 1200 to 800 feet, and the flyers. They suffered little from cold.

But clouds all the way obstructed the vision. Navigator Lyon, who eleven years worked for the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, said that in all his experience he never before had seen clouds so thick around the islands. These clouds made the flyers doubtful of their position for a time, they said, but they climbed to an altitude of 5000 feet and saw Maunakea, the mountain of Hawaii Island, its summit of nearly 14,000 feet piercing the clouds.

From that time on it was easy sailing, the huge plane continuing to work perfectly as it had done through the journey. The radio battery, the cause of the dreadful silence after the air disturbance, since will be replaced with a larger battery.

SOME FUEL LEFT

The flight was ended with 130 gallons of gasoline in the tanks, said the flyers, enough to keep the plane in the air three hours longer. Thus they contrived to earlier reports that came through the air that their fuel supply was nearing depletion.

Capt. Kingsford-Smith and his companions enthusiastically praised the "romantic" flight of the Southern Cross. They are confident that they will make the remainder of the flight with little trouble, but plan to carry 1500 gallons of gasoline for the flight to Suva, which is about 730 miles longer than the voyage here from California, on which they carried 1200 gallons.

The Southern Cross will be taken to the island of Kauai tomorrow, it is planned, and the flyers hope to leave for Suva on Sunday.

No difficulty is expected by the crew in lifting the plane into the air from the Barking Sands Field with a runway of 4500 feet.

The flyers discovered after arrival that they had followed the great circle route accurately all the way down from Oakland, Alameda, they thought they had lost their way, they learned they had not deviated from their planned course.

Officials and popular welcome cut short to give them a rest, the flyers soon retired to their hotel rooms to remain until 4 p.m., when they called on Gov. Farrington.

While the aviators slept after their long, arduous flight, consultations were under way concerning their jump to the Barking Sands of Kauai Island, and thence on the long stretch southward to the Fiji Islands.

British Consul Phipps radioed the Governor of Fiji and the administrator of Western Samoa concerning the advisability of having the Southern Cross alight on the island of Upolu, British Samoa, instead of at Suva.

Investigations seem to indicate that the landing facilities at Suva are limited, and much better at Upolu.

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 1. (Exclusive)—Leaders of the field of Senatorial candidates, determined to defeat Hoover at all costs, first will try to prevent Senator Reed Smoot from acting as chairman of the committee on resolutions at the Kansas City convention.

Senator Smoot, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, has been chosen by President Coolidge, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and other administration leaders to put together the 1928 platform and commend the administration for its second veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. His handling of the "Pepper" proxy was dropped as a factor for and he is a fighter hard to stop.

That is the reason that radical Republicans, who staked everything on the McNary-Haugen plan, are out for the scalp of Senator Smoot and his administration associates. The probable fact that this measure also will fail, but the defeatists are looking for trouble and will do anything to shatter the program already adopted for the convention.

Another serious upset in the convention plans is the refusal of former Senator George Wharton Pepper to serve as a member of the credentials committee. He has broken with the leaders of the Republican party and will not even attend the convention.

Senator Pepper has sent his proxy as National Committeeman to Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire.

His action came as a complete surprise to Senator Smoot and other Republicans in the capital. They learned of it, in fact, not from Senator Pepper himself, but from other sources.

Government Charges Giant

Yearly Output Declared to

CHICAGO, June 1. (Exclusive)—Ous H. Bohlander, president of the village of Melrose Park, Anthony palm, village trustee, and Josephine Lawrence, his wife, were indicted today for the killing of Policeman Lawrence Harnett, and ninety-eight others were named in an indictment charging a conspiracy to violate the prohibition law by the operation of 119 stills in homes in Melrose Park.

The indictment was returned yesterday by the Federal Grand Jury and was based on the testimony of more than 300 persons who appeared before them. The indictment is the largest returned in this district since the enactment of the dry law.

Melrose is charged with heading the still operators, most of whom were employees in the old Nineteenth Ward under the regime of the Cenna brothers. The syndicate is asserted to have operated 119 stills in the village with an estimated output of 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol yearly.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Anderson, in charge of the case, states that the group used 11,000,000 pounds of sugar annually in the production of alcohol. He estimates that the stills netted an income of $5,000,000 yearly.

Action to forfeit the land and buildings on which the 119 stills were located will be started shortly by Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Parillo, invoking an old revenue law, the government hopes to obtain title to the sixty-six buildings in which the stills were located. The value of the property is placed at $600,000.

When the liner made her way up the harbor today her bows were high out of water, as ballast had been shifted to bring the torn plating in the center of the bow. The eight feet wide was revealed. The lifeboats and decks of the liner were spattered with oil from the punctured fuel tanks of the Kershaw.

At the time of the collision the Kershaw was in charge of Capt. Ralph C. Smith, a coastal pilot. On the bridge at the time were Capt. Wilson, master of the liner, third Mate E. A. Cooper, watch officer, and Oscar Peterson, quartermaster, at the wheel. The liner was in command of Capt. Brooks.

Officials of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Company said today that the liner was on its way from Baltimore to Boston and that on his arrival here tomorrow he would be in charge of the liner. The liner was in command of Capt. Brooks.

CHICAGO, June 1. (Exclusive)—Ous H. Bohlander, president of the village of Melrose Park, Anthony palm, village trustee, and Josephine Lawrence, his wife, were indicted today for the killing of Policeman Lawrence Harnett, and ninety-eight others were named in an indictment charging a conspiracy to violate the prohibition law by the operation of 119 stills in homes in Melrose Park.

The indictment was returned yesterday by the Federal Grand Jury and was based on the testimony of more than 300 persons who appeared before them. The indictment is the largest returned in this district since the enactment of the dry law.

Melrose is charged with heading the still operators, most of whom were employees in the old Nineteenth Ward under the regime of the Cenna brothers. The syndicate is asserted to have operated 119 stills in the village with an estimated output of 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol yearly.

GRAND JURORS ASSAIL COURTS

San Franciscans Urge End of Dilatory Practices

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1. (Exclusive)—The retiring grand jury flayed the dilatory tactics of court procedure in its report to Judge Johnson today, asserting that there would be more respect for the law if trials were conducted like grand jury inquiries, where "all the truth is obtained."

port as "constructive criticism."
It is charged the grand jury is not fully supported in its efforts to protect society from criminals; that delays and continuances sanctioned by the courts result too often to miscarriage of justice; that there is a feeling akin to contempt for the court on the part of many good citizens; that honest men have no fear of a speedy trial and crooks and malefactors are the only persons who gain while society suffers because of legal procrastination.

that the manner of ascertaining the whole truth as practiced by the grand jury well might be emulated by trial courts.

SCHOOLS HELD TOO EXPENSIVE

Paradise Executives Want to Find Out Reasons

Economy Advocates Confess They Are Up Stump

Superintendent Requested to Suggest Savings

PASADENA, June 1.—A sweeping investigation of causes which contribute to the heavy high per capita cost of education in this city has been ordered by the Board of Education, it was learned today.

In presenting the resolution authorizing the investigation, Carl Z. Jackson, school-board member, stated that when he and Charles H. Morse were elected last year, they were voted into office on an "economy platform."

"We have spent a year on the board," he declared, "and no economy has been effected. It is time something is done. I don't know how economy can be effected, but I am assured there are some means at our disposal. In other words, I am going back to the Board of Education with the hope that they may be able to do something to reduce the very high cost of educating our children."

The motion was seconded by Mr. Morse and adopted unanimously. It resolved that:

"The superintendent be directed to make a careful study of causes existing within the system to determine those factors and practices which contribute to the very high per capita cost of education and also those factors for a savings plan. The study should be made in the light of that systematic and careful supervision of the individual classroom teacher, which is now required as an essential characteristic of all well-directed supervisory organizations."

New Hospital Project Begun

OXNARD, June 1.—Preliminary operations are under way today for the erection of a forty-five bed hospital and sanatorium to be built by Dr. F. J. Swift, osteopath and physician of this city. The first unit of the new institution is expected to be completed in about seventy days and will comprise eighteen rooms, with fourteen beds. The hospital will be located on the corner of First and H streets. Ground was broken today and the office building of Dr. Swift, recently built, is being moved from its present location to the new site. This nine-room building will serve as the administrative building, housing also reception room, doctor's office and surgery. The first wing of the hospital will be built to adjoin the office building, making a total of twenty-seven rooms in the first section.

The cost of the first piece of work will be $25,000, according to Thomas F. Ene, architect. As soon as conditions warrant, the remainder of the building will be started. When finished it will represent an expenditure of $300,000.

DAMAGES ASKED IN RANCH SALE

Hole Sues Subdividers for Sum of $243,786.62

Excessive Deductions to Roadways Charged

Property Sold Four Years Ago for $1,400,000

REVEREND, June 1.—W. J. Hole, who sold his Rancho La Sierra, south of Arlington, for $1,400,000 in 1924, today filed suit in Superior Court demanding damages totaling $243,786.62 from subdividers of the property. An accounting of the books of the Rancho La Sierra, Inc., which recently re-sold the land back to Hole, also is asked in the fifty-three-page complaint.

Hole charges the individual members of the company with deliberate attempts to cheat him out of the true value of the land and with non-fulfillment of their agreement made at the time of the sale on February 7, 1924.

Those made defendants in the suit are W. E. Baile, Earl P. Baile, William M. Cook, Edna P. Cook, Llewellyn Bailey, George S. Workman, J. E. Cook, all directors of the subdivision company; the Rancho La Sierra, Inc., the Security Trust and Savings Bank, holder of the tract; and the Mutual Building and Loan Association. Money judgments were for $72,228 from the bank, $1,000 from the association, and $171,558.62 from the Rancho La Sierra, Inc. The suit also seeks that the court terminate the sale of the property and order the subdividers to refund the purchase price of the property to the plaintiff.

WILL LINK PLAYGROUNDS

Proposed Road From Pine Flats to Swartout Will Cut Thirty Miles From Present Route

AZUSA, June 1.—Preliminary steps in the opening of a new mountain road linking Pine Flats and Swartout, two county playgrounds, will be taken early next week when County Surveyor Rockwell and County Engineer J. E. Wadsworth, in company with F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent at Pine Flats, and representatives of the local Chamber of Commerce, will make a trip by horseback over the proposed road. S. E. McAdams, secretary of the chamber, announced today.

The road will lead from Pine Flats through Nichols Park to the mouth of Iron Forks. From the forks the mountain highway will extend up the main river through Pine Flats and over Pleasant View ridge to the park. The connecting link of road will be about eight miles and will save motorists about thirty miles of travel to Swartout.

RECONSTRUCTION NEAR COMPLETION

SANTA PAULA, June 1.—That building in the Santa Paula flood may reach a total of $500,000 when the work is completed in July, was the statement made today by K. P. Lowell, director of building for the city of Los Angeles.

About $45,000 has been expended in rebuilding in this territory, according to Lowell, $18,000 last month and $27,000 in May. Several homes have been completed by a crew of 25 men working under the director.

Bringing First Photo of Italia From Arctic Base Spectacular Feat

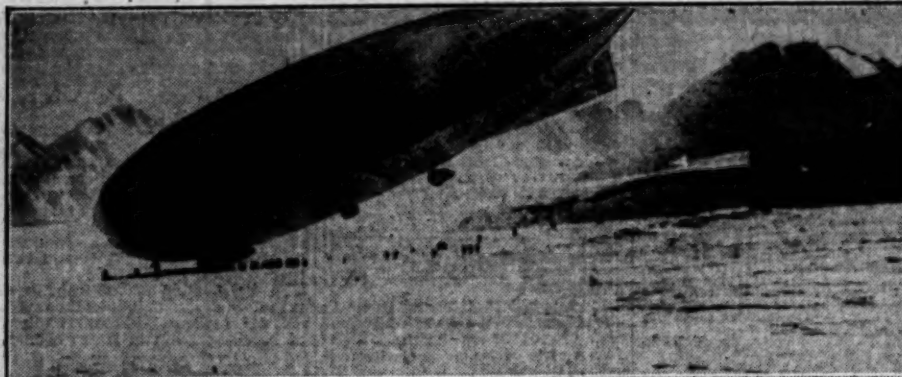

Almost as Spectacular as Flight of the Italia Into Arctic Wastes was the feat of bringing out news pictures from the icebound base of the dirigible at Kings Bay, Spitzbergen. By sealing boat, dog sled, planes, rail and ocean liner these photos, taken less than a month ago (May 6,) are brought to readers in Southland. Photo shows Italia maneuvering for landing at Kings Bay. (P. & A. photo.)

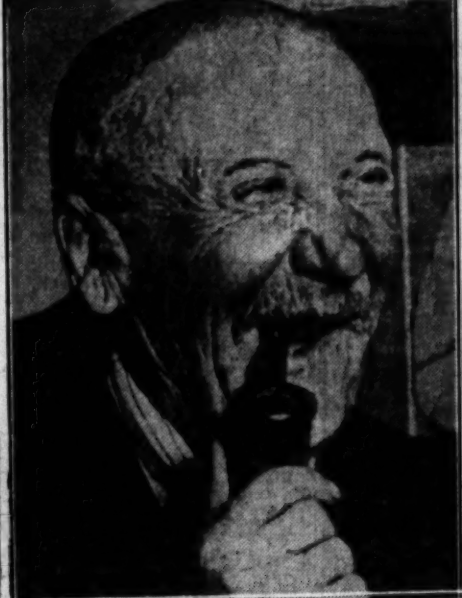

Getting the Dirigible's Supplies Ashore From the Citta Di Milano, its base ship, was heartbreaking labor for the crew. Here members of the crew and base force are shown fighting across the ice hummocks of Kings Bay with the aid of dog teams in the transportation of the supplies. This photo was taken on the day of the arrival of the dirigible. (P. & A. photo.)

Wolfe had been ident

George E. Lewis, execu

Colorado, who was under most of yesterday's attack but did not com ment. Topping the discussion was a note to the effect: "These were written so that the committee should be able to see the conditions." Lewis identified "Peter" as the extension service. He then figured in the cry having consulted Del for the Colorado Water power, regarding the pro posed commission, and Lewis was on another connection with supposed connections for membership in the commission. A second list was found on a memoran dum bearing the name of Lewis.
The commission finally annou ced the board of regents had included some of the new with lists. Among them the commission has not yet decided.

Healy interrogated Lewis regarding the commis report against the Boulder

Building Activity NOW!

THERE'S MORE ACTIVITY to the square foot in Leimert Park than anywhere else in the City! No need to take our word for it. Come and See! Nine building contractors at work! 66 homes built or building! Three 4-family flats nearing completion! Four more flat buildings under way! 75 men rushing additional street work! What's it all mean?

Homeseekers, builders, investors realize that Leimert Park offers the finest available location for moderately priced homes on the West side, close to the business center of Los Angeles, the Universities, schools, golf courses and beaches... and it is on a 5c car line... the "E" yellow line runs right through Leimert Park!

TODAY the demand is heavy for the choicest locations and buyers are building immediately. They are building the homes of their dreams here... as you will see for yourself!

25% LIFE INCOME ON YOUR INVESTMENT

So keen is the demand for rentals here, that the first unit of income property is almost sold out! No wonder, when we can show a LIFE INCOME of 25% net on your actual investment in a four-family flat building. Every lot faces on a 100-foot concrete boulevard with parkways in the center.

Highly desirable locations ready for building homes and duplex buildings on tree lined streets, with all improvements in and paid for.

Come Today or Tomorrow and see some real building activity. Ask a courteous representative to show you the lot you might be interested in.

POSTERS SHOWN

A note from Lewis to "all managers" notified them, on November 15, 1927, that "an attractive illustrated poster" was being sent under another cover.

"This poster," Lewis wrote, "while designed to advertise our public utilities course at the University of Colorado, also bears a message calculated to assist in impressing the fact that utility rates are still as low as they were a dozen years ago, though the cost of everything else is higher. The poster and the message it contains have been approved by the officials of the Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming utilities associations, the Rocky Mountain division, National Electric Light Association and this committee."

The note suggested that the poster be displayed "on your property where the largest number of persons will see it," and also that "with additional copies, you can obtain

PARIS, June 1. (AP)—One day of marriage was enough for Vicomte Bertier Le Sauvigny and a Paris court has given the Vicomtesse, who is Dutch, a divorce. It is still considering, however, how much to give the Vicomte out of his wife's fortune which is estimated at several million dollars.

He was her fourth husband, succeeding the son of the late Sultan Abdul-Hamed and the British Lord Douglas. The Vicomte, the wife told the court, disappeared the day after their wedding in London two years ago.

ring general, tonight warded off the wildest thrusts
of Pete Latzo,
once a champion himself in the welterweight realm, to hold tight to the light-heavy-must defend twice more this summer.

The Scranton coal miner might have won the championship of the 175-pounders
if his striking attack and long arms had been confined to a series of ten rounds. But in the Philadelphia ring massacre the pace cleverly, and in greatest efforts for the moment, Pete had little as it was a final disturbance and all-around ship through the last round, a final solving of the puzzle that led to Latzo's defeat. Loughran, who had been home the night before for Jimmy Stat-title at the Polo Grounds, did not meet the pace of the ten rounds and the win was earned through the end of a rout.

S-SH! FRANK WYKOFF WORKING IN SECRET FOR SPRINT RACE

BY BRAVEN DYER
The press agent for the Olympic tryouts at the Coliseum the 16th

as is his daily habit. This time he came burdened with the startling infor-

"Frank Wykoff
is working out privately and in secret." It seems, according to the press agent, that Wykoff doesn't want Charley Faddock or any of his other foes to know what he's doing.

Not only is Wykoff working out secretly but it is positively announced that "he is training behind closed doors." Now this is a startling departure from the approved method of training for an outdoor race. You'd think that Wy-koff would prefer to get out in the open and do his stuff; but no strife, "he's training behind closed doors at Glendale High School."
If you don't believe it just drop out and see him in action any after-

The Stars wasted no time clinching yesterday's contest, for they went after the offerings of "Spec" Shes and "Three-Fingered" Dave Keefe with vim and vigor to pile up all ten of their runs in the first six innings, during which time they hammered out fourteen hits. Six of those safeties were massed in the third inning, when five Stars scattered over the plate.
After his mates had presented him with such a generous lead, it was just a breeze for Dick McCabe to coast to victory. Mc-Cabe had the Solons popping up most of the afternoon and in one inning retired the visitors on three pitched balls. The Stars got to Dick for seven hits, making two each in the first and ninth rounds to put across their pair of counters. At that

At the Southern California finals of the Junior Olympic Games at Moore Field, 855 North Vermont avenue, this afternoon, the two best "all-around boy athletes in Southern California will be chosen to represent this district against the rest of the United States for the national championship. One hundred boys, representing nine counties and the cream of more than 25,000 individual entries, will participate in the meet, as will the great Sir Charles Paddock, king of sprinters, and the record-breaking girls' relay team of the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club. The public is invited. Admission is free.

From all directions in a territory 400 miles long will come the participants in today's contests. For more than three months they have been working and practicing with this big meet in sight. In each county thousands of husky youngsters have pitted their strength and skill against one another and today the pick of all these athletes meet to pick the two who will represent Southern California against the world.
It will be a meet of champions, for every one of the youngsters participating today has not only demonstrated his ability by outstanding performances in his own individual school, but has done so again and again in district and county elimination trials, until inside these sturdy 15-year-old bodies there beats the fearless heart of the experienced performer. No

Seaver and Fuller Upset in Hollywood Invitational

TEARLE, JONES DEFEATED, 1 UP

Martin Gets Eagle on 13th to Win Hole

Soldani and Trembley Cop Over Youngsters

Hutchinson, Goodrich Shoot 71 Best Ball

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Favorites have been faring badly in Hollywood annual invitational, which reaches the semifinals this afternoon. Yesterday it was Charlie Seaver and Victor Fuller, fresh from their victory over Dr. Paul Hunter and Harry Westbrook, who took the count. C. L. Soldani and George Trembley accomplished the feat, 3 up, in a tight match.

In another upset Dave Martin and Al Stover trimmed Paul Jones and Conway Tearle, 1 up. Rio Honda's youthful star had an eagle on the thirteenth, which finally proved the deciding hole. Jones was playing for an eagle on the same hole, but the ball jumped the cup.

Today's championship matches, starting at 1:15, will be as follows: Dave Martin and Al Stover vs. C. L. Soldani and George Trembley; J. Kelly and Webb Hanson vs. J. M. Read and Paul Lavelle.

Read and Lavelle have so far shaken the six popularly supposed to follow the medal winners. They were tied with Jones and Tearle and Westbrook and Hunter for the qualifying honors, but won the play-off with a 66.

W. S. Goodrich and Half Hutchison featured in the third night, with a 71 best ball. Hutchison, a six handicap player, banged the ball all over the course with his iron, and played beautiful golf. He was on the long par 4 twelfth and again on the par 5 thirteenth. Goodrich sank a thirty-foot putt on the thirteenth for a birdie.

Goodrich and W. Sholes won twenty-two holes before winning over P. Schofield and H. Enfield, 1 up.

Yesterday's complete results were as follows:

LOMSKI GO FOR BELANGER

Scrapper Who Meets Vijo Doman in Olympic Ring Tuesday Signed to Face Aberdeen Pole

Charley Belanger's hope to get a return bout with Leo Lomski became one-half fulfilled yesterday when he signed a contract to box the Aberdeen light-heavy star at the Olympic scene late this month or early in July.

Lomski's okay for the bout has not yet been received, although he asked Matchmaker Wadham for a bout a few days ago, but specified no opponent.

Due to the size of Belanger, who is barely a 160-pounder, Wadham would like to pair him up with Lomski. Leo is weighing between 170 and 175 pounds since he has been performing in the East.

Belanger boxes Vijo Doman next Tuesday night at the Olympic and his record indicates he is another great hitter. The French-Canadian's record shows thirty knockouts as an amateur and close to twenty as a professional.

Then he boxed Lomski in a fifteen-fight and has knocked out fifteen opponents. This is the first introduction of Doman to an Olympic arena since he won the second prize at Hollywood and sold the place out over time.

Belanger is showing his wallop at the first of his opponents. He works much like Lomski in the training bouts.

Due to the fact that Belanger is a Canadian, he may be asked by the committee in charge of the Olympics to box on June 15, to work with Leo Lomski.

Belanger saw both Fidel La Barba and Jackie Fields win their Olympic flyweight and featherweight titles.

Leo Mitchell and Joe Woods box the eighth-round semi-final. Pete West, a Chicago lightweight, meets Russell Walters in the special event.

Wadham has not arranged his card for June 12, but announced yesterday he expected to stage forty rounds of boxing for the fans in inauguration of the new rule.

BUILDING-LOAN DEAL PENDING

Control of Fidelity Savings May Change Hands

Association Founder Seeks to Relinquish Reins

Announcement Made as Offset for Vague Rumors

Control of the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association, the largest building-loan institution in California, may pass this month to a group of local business men if negotiations now in progress are consummated. G. H. Wadleigh, president of the association and its founder, declared yesterday.

Mr. Wadleigh made this announcement particularly to offset rumors recently circulated to the effect that control of the institution would pass to another similar organization. Such a move, he has been advised, would set up a powerful combine that would be detrimental to other building-loan associations of the State.

Mr. Wadleigh, who is the largest stockholder of the association, declined to state the terms of the tentative offer, but said emphatically that no change in the management would take place. The group which is seeking control desires Mr. Wadleigh to remain as president. This he might do for a short time, he said. All directors will be asked to remain, but the board may be enlarged.

The Fidelity Savings and Loan Association was founded by Mr. Wadleigh in 1899 and today leads all other building-loan associations in the State with total resources of $28,954,455 reported as of May 15, last. The institution, it was stated, was one of the first to set up voluntarily a surplus reserve fund. Paid-in capital and surplus amounts to $1,677,001.69. Building loans of the association now outstanding exceed $20,000,000.

Officers and directors of the association include: L. J. Christopher, vice-president; R. W. Davis, president and manager; Clarence M. Lee, secretary; and D. K. Edwards, John Finlay, A. F. Morlan, E. J. Nolan and D. C. Fixley, directors.

Annual Banquet Plans of A.I.B. Chapter Told

Thomas R. Preston, president, Hamilton National Bank, Chattanooga, Tenn., and national president of the American Bankers' Association, will deliver the principal address at the twenty-fifth annual banquet of the Los Angeles chapter, American Institute of Banking, to be held Tuesday, according to an announcement made yesterday by W. A. Polk, junior vice-president of the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank and president of the Los Angeles chapter.

P. B. Williams, vice-president of the Bank of Italy and past national president of the American Institute of Banking, will explain the national work of the organization, and Harold Stonier of New York, national educational director, will outline future educational plans.

W. W. Gibbs, vice-president, Security Trust and Savings Bank, and first president of the local chapter, will tell the bankers about the education twenty-five years ago. R. M. Phillo, vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank, will act as toastmaster.

Pan American Advances Date

Date of the annual meeting of stockholders of the Pan American Western Petroleum Company, tentatively set for the 5th inst., has been advanced to the 15th inst., according to information received from the company yesterday. The company's annual report for 1927 as well as the first quarterly report for 1928 will be made public at this meeting.

It is expected that stockholders will be advised at that time of the reported Richfield-Pan American negotiations whereby the former company is supposed to obtain control of the latter company.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 1. (Exclusive)—The cotton market was quiet today, with prices showing a further decline. The market was influenced by the continued heavy weather prevailing in the new crop in the greater part of the cotton belt. The outlook somewhat more favorable than the market estimates. A fortnight ago. One of them estimated the condition at 40 per cent and the indicated increase in acreage as high as 10 per cent over the estimate of the government's figures.

There was nothing from the cotton market was closed for the holiday and will remain closed tomorrow. Cotton futures contracts here to 1928, October of the new crop to 1929, December to 1930.

This is a maximum of between 40 and 50 per cent of the cotton crop to be harvested in the next few weeks. The market is expected to be quiet for several weeks. The stock exchanges have been taking a holiday on Saturday to allow the clerical forces to catch up with the accumulation of business.

UNION, STANDARD GROOMED

Former Linked in Richfield-Pan Western Plans; Rumor Venders Resume Activity

By EARLE E. CROWE

Rumblings in the stock market yesterday indicated that some of the oil traders, principally the partisans of Union Oil of California and Standard Oil, are somewhat resentful of the rise of Richfield to leadership of the petroleum stocks. The word was freely circulated among the habitués of the brokerage offices that the two past favorites could soon step out and capture the position usurped by the newer stock.

On behalf of Union the stories were particularly active. One of the rumors related that the same powerful interests, which are supposed to have an interest in Richfield, are quietly accumulating a line of stock in the open market. Other partisans of this stock pledged renewed faith in the merger possibilities, and offered the supposition that this time the Union will come in to the projected Richfield-Pan American Western combination.

REPORTS CONFLICT

In some quarters reported to have an affiliation with the Union management, it was intimated that suggestions along this line have been advanced, but that it is too early to hazard a guess as to the outcome. From other equally reliable sources the statement was made that no overtures have been made to Union, and there is no intention of doing so. Apparently, then, it is a toss-up so far as this rumor goes.

After hearing Union Oil rumors in and year out, and meeting with a succession of disappointments, a strong suspicion is gaining ground that the rumors are good many people that these reports are manufactured and distributed by professional market operators. Both Union and Standard are favorites of certain well-known groups in San Francisco and Los Angeles, and periodically they put the stocks through their paces. Invariably, moreover, these operations are attended with considerable public participation.

POSITIONS STRONG

The fact should not be overlooked, however, that Union and Standard have lagged while Richfield has been performing. From an investment point of view, the two older companies are in a position to realize measurable benefits if the industry continues to improve, having the advantage of trying times without showing any signs of importance.

Union, for example, has left its oil in California and the production of others during these months of low prices and large production. The company has followed the policy of purchasing and holding its oil in California, where conditions are said to be as near ideal as they have been in many years.

California has been materially increased their cotton acreage and expect to produce a heavier crop this fall, the report stated. In California, where conditions are said to be as near ideal as they have been in many years.

Kansas is beginning the harvest of its enormous wheat crop, estimated at from 160,000,000 to 170,000,000 bushels, while some believe that the production may reach the record high yield of 180,000,000 bushels harvested in 1914. Old-time oil is scheduled to produce between 60,000,000 and 70,000,000 bushels of wheat, while the whole Panhandle of Texas is a sea of waving grain with an estimated yield of about 20,000,000 bushels.

Indications are that the crop acreage will be larger than last year, but that the next two to three months should see a "bigger bull" market than ever before. "Cheap money" will prevail, he said, and it is his opinion that current tendency of tightening money rates is more of an attempt to discourage speculation rather than registering any change in fundamental soundness of industry.

Both Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck reported record-breaking sales for last month, thus accounting in measure for the remarkable strength of those issues since the beginning of the week. Sears Roebuck's May sales ran more than 10 per cent ahead of a year ago and those of Montgomery Ward were over 15 per cent. The splendid showings in both instances were attributed to the fact that there was one more business day this year and the prevalence of somewhat better weather conditions.

Hill Road Division Prospects

While an increase in the present dividend rates Northern Pacific and Great Northern might be regarded as warranted by the improvement which has been maintained in the earnings of those roads, Wall Street is not looking forward to such development at the approaching meetings of the roads' directors, nor is there any widespread expectation of a higher rate later in the year. The feeling generally held is that such a move might lead to complicated matters bearing on the merger plan involving these properties which is now awaiting decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

STOCK MART IN UPWARD TREND

Advance Irregular as Credit Situation Tightens

Calling of Bank Loans Forces Call Money Up

New High Records Registered by Many Issues

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—The stock market gave an impression of demonstration of strength today, the face of two sharp sell-offs, both inspired by tight credit conditions.

Prices ran up 1 to 10 points during the morning and then quickly around midday when they called $10,000,000 in loans. The recovery in the early afternoon checked in the last hour in calling of an additional $10,000,000 in loans and the market closed with a slight advance.

Final quotations were generally higher than the opening, with many issues ranging from 1 to 10 points being off by a number of points. Some of the high specialties declined with the advance, but the market was sweeping upward as the closing gong sounded.

MONEY DROP SEEN

While stiff money rates and recent decline in the volume of credit available for stock purposes are still a cause of concern in many quarters, operators in advance look for easier money before the middle of the month. They believe that the distribution of demand and interest payments on the part of the government will be more liberal and that the high-grade specialties will be more active. On the other hand, the persistent effort of the Federal Reserve banks to reduce the volume of speculative credit will be a number of conservative factors to urge extreme caution in the chase of stocks.

There was little in the day's news to influence the movement. The weekly reviews reported continued activity but Bradstreet's expression of opinion that May comparisons of the same month last year were much better than those of the late rally probably was a boost, in part, by the publication of a bullish interview by William Durant, prominent market maker, on his return from Europe. Durant expressed the opinion that brokers' loans would reach the $10,000,000 mark before the market was over.

Radio was again the spectacular feature, closing 3 1/2 points higher at 230 after fluctuating between 220 and 230.

Today's Bible Text

Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men! For He satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness. Psalm cxxv, 2.

THE TIMES CHANGE

The boy who has to be prodded to speak his piece in the schoolroom Friday afternoon has to have his coat tail pulled in the other way when he gets on his pins at a Rotary luncheon.

A CAPITAL THOUGHT

Russia changed its capital during the frenzy of revolution and the same thing may happen in China. The anchorage to Peking may be shaken loose. The Chinese may reason that they need new capital anyhow.

THE WATCH DOG

Congressman Anthony of Kansas has been chosen to head the Committee on Appropriations as the successor of the late Congressman Mackenzie of Illinois. Among the lobbyists at Washington the temptation of Anthony will now become a part of the day's work.

MAKING MEAD

The King of Spain must enjoy the kick provided in the brew which his people make from fermented honey. At least he has given an order for 1000 stands of bees for the royal park. He may be known as the monarch with the hives.

A POPULAR GUY

West Virginia Republicans neglected to return a plurality for Hoover in their primaries. They leaned toward Guy D. Goff, who happens to be their Senator and favorite son. But if Goff gets a vote from a delegate of any other State but his own he will be surprised himself.

MENTIONED IN PASSING

Some five years ago a corner at Wilshire and La Brea was sold by the owner for $18,000, which was considered a mighty uphull price at the moment. Since that time the purchaser has received more than his $18,000 in rentals from the corner as a gasoline station. Now he disposes of the lot for the snappy figure of $420,000, and it is possible that a height-limit business block will rise thereon. Yet even kids can remember when this Wilshire stuff was considered only as ranching material.

THE STRONG MAN

The most intricate and impressive piece of legislation going through the Congressional session was the tax-reduction measure and this is really a triumph of Senator Smoot—although the Utah statesman is not the gloating kind. But the knowledge he has and the authority with which he speaks make his service indispensable in legislation of this class. Some of these half-baked politicians who start out with a guess or a dream find out what's what when they go up against this bulwark of finance.

PER SIMMONS

Senator Furnifold McEnnon Simmons of North Carolina insists that he is a hard-boiled Democrat, but he also swears that under no circumstance or combination of conditions will he vote for Smith. He doesn't even admit the possibility of a nomination. He actually has the belief that Cordell Hull will be the nominee—he and Hull being the only two Democrats in the country holding that hope at this moment. As the pruner would say: If Hull knocks down the plum it will be per Simmons.

A RAFT OF BUGS

When the Smithsonian Institution received a carload of insects from Manila it was thought at first that the Philippine army had been decimated, but it was at once learned that the collection represented the life work of Dean Baker and covered more than 300,000 specimens—some of them having never before been listed or tabbed. This is one of the greatest and most important collections in the world and will be of vast and enduring value to scientists. Washington is also a good place to house it. When the citizens are displeased with their statesmen and representatives they can step over to the Institution and look at the bugs.

SCHOOL BOND OBJECTIONS

In the campaign for a bond issue of $29,400,000 to meet the necessities of the school-building situation in this district, various objections to the issuance of the bonds have been heard. Some of the objections are offered in good faith and are the honest opinions of thinking citizens. More are based on politics and personal prejudice. The Times is of the opinion that these objections, where they have any validity at all, are not weighty and should not be controlling. Some of them are due to misconceptions and misinformation as to the situation.

These objections may be grouped under five heads: (1) That the amount asked for is too large; (2) that the present muddling city administration is asking for and will spend the money; (3) that there is still money remaining from the bond issue of four years ago; (4) that the Board of Education is inclined to extravagance; (5) that the schools are too elaborate and have much unnecessary equipment.

As to the first objection, the amount has been fixed after a most careful survey of the school system and provides only for the pressing needs of the present and the immediate needs of the future. It is not a building program for many years ahead in the sense that it assumes a future growth of school population which may or may not take place. It is for the future in the sense that the buildings constructed and the equipment purchased will be in use for many years, and hence should be paid for, in part, by the future; but it is for the present in the sense that there are now pupils in all every building that the issue will erect.

The amount is considerable because the increase in school enrollment has been unprecedented. There were 33,000 more pupils to be taken care of this year than last. The school board concedes that this is abnormal, but puts the normal increase for the year at 23,000. Contrast this with an annual increase of 16,000 pupils in the Chicago schools, 12,000 in the New York schools, 9,800 in the Detroit schools, for the same year and it will readily be seen that the problem is one of great magnitude.

Schools are required, slack times or roaring times; education is as much a fundamental necessity as food, clothing and shelter; in a very real sense it is the basis of civilization and prosperity. Without schools, property values on which taxes are paid would not exist; creative productivity would cease, and the community relapse into semicivilization. Without adequate schools it will cease to be attractive and its growth will stop. There is also something to be said for an actual increase of public building in quiet times, to give employment and to keep money in useful circulation. Provided the public work thus supplied is necessary work that will have to be done some time, this principle is beneficial.

As to the second objection, it has no foundation. The school administration is not connected with the city administration; the boundaries of the school district do not coincide with those of the city. The Board of Education is a separate government entity.

The third objection has no foundation either. All the money raised by the bond issue of 1924 has either been spent or is obligated; none of it is available for the program the Board of Education finds is necessary. The small amount remaining on hand will be required for undertakings already under way.

The fourth and fifth objections may be considered together. There is no public body in California with a better record than the Los Angeles school board; for years it has been of uniformly high quality and personnel; it has never had a whisper of suspicion as to its conduct. Its very harmony of operation has, in a sense, militated against it, because it has resulted in little public notice being taken of its activities. Like these happy countries that have no history, the school board gets little publicity; it conducts its business efficiently and without furor or disagreement, and so fails to attract attention.

Comparative figures show that Los Angeles has the most economically built and operated school buildings of any city in the country on a basis either of cubic space or of pupil capacity. Its buildings are handsome structures, but this is the result rather of architectural skill than of expenditure; and their appearance is not achieved at the cost of their usefulness. Late erections have been built for permanence, and no one will deny that incidental beauty is far from being an objection—indeed, in fact, an advantage since it instills a pride in pupils that actually promotes scholarship. The psychological effect of dignified, well-designed buildings is very considerable.

The demands of modern life have forced the schools far beyond the "three R's" of pioneer days, and equipment is necessarily more elaborate and costly than that of the traditional Little Red Schoolhouse. There must be laboratories to give students at least an introduction to the science which rules the world today; trades must be taught and to teach them there must be machines and tools. It must be remembered that for the majority of the population, the schooling in the grades and the high school will be all the formal education they ever will receive, and that if they are to have that equality of opportunity which our government was established to obtain for all citizens, this education must be as full and as complete as it can well be made. The community does less than its duty if it fails to give its children a fair start in life, and good school training is one of the necessary elements of a fair start.

Upon all counts, the argument in favor of the school bonds is overwhelming. They should be voted by a majority much larger than the necessary two-thirds. It is a safe prediction that the majority will vote close to their maximum strength; if those who appreciate the necessity for these bonds do not also turn out and vote there is real danger that the issue may be defeated.

The election is next Tuesday. Remember the day—and vote!

THE FAST EXPRESS

The Britons now have fast trains that never stop on the long runs between Glasgow and Edinburgh and London. This sets the Scotchmen into the capital without a chance to squander their money on the way.

LEE SIDE O' LA

by Lee Shippey

AFTER twenty-four years of service which was much appreciated by a few but almost unnoticed by the city at large, Court Flight is beginning to come into its own. S. G. Vandegrift, president, general manager, conductor, motor man and chief engineer of this quaintest of railways, says it has turned the corner into Easy Street since the Hall of Justice, the City Hall and the beginnings of the civic center have been rescued and begun to transform all that end of town.

The odd thing about this is that the new City Hall robs Court Flight of one of the chief claims and claims of its youth. At the almost hidden foot of this 180-foot street railway an almost hidden sign proclaims: "Highest Point in the City. Finest View in Town. And twenty-four years ago, that was true. Now the Hall of Justice stands squarely across that view on one side while the City Hall tower, affording a far finer view than Court Flight ever did, rises squarely in front of it. From the great tower of the City Hall, one would almost need a telescope to see the tiny tower above Court Flight, from which eager tourists used to take in the view and actually feel a little giddy.

Two-Man Railway
 So hidden away is Court Flight that thousands of Angelenos who have seen numerous postcard pictures of Angel's Flight never have seen its smaller copy. Court Flight is little more than half as long as Angel's Flight, but twice as steep, its grade being 52 per cent against 35 per cent for the longer road, we are informed. Only one man besides the owner, etc., is needed to operate it.

AVIATION EXPLOITS
 So many daring aviators have been sucked down into the Pacific in an effort to make Hawaii that the success of the Australian-American quartet has much of the thrill of the original success. The names of Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, Charles Ulm, Harry Lyon and James Warner deserve to be placed among those of our greatest peace-time aces for their achievement. Despite the rapidity of air progress, it will be several years before such flights are commonplace.

News of a new world's distance record, established by the Spanish aviators, Ignacio Iglesias and Francisco Jimenez, at 4400 miles, indicates that the second-stage hop of the Pacific journey, from Hawaii to the Fiji Islands, is not impossible. The Australians, however, will have to be better navigators than the Spaniards, who missed their destination of Karachi, India, by some 250 miles—an error that might easily be fatal in the case of an overseas journey.

Almost as remarkable, in its way, was the exploit of Col. Lindbergh in finding the Long Beach aviation field in the dark, and in awaking, with the roar of his motors, the field superintendent to turn on the lights. The plaudits of the multitude evidently have cost Lindbergh none of his skill or his uncanny ability in arriving at a chosen destination, regardless of difficulties. Another time it is to be hoped, Col. Lindbergh may take his pick of fully lighted landing fields in this vicinity.

THE CALTECH ATHENEUM
 Another step toward the establishment of Southern California as a cultural center has been taken with the provision of more than half the funds needed to build the long-projected Atheneum at California Institute of Technology. Some twenty-two members of the California Institute of Technology still remain open for the completion of the fund, and these, it is expected, will soon be filled so that the donation of $300,000 by public-spirited though anonymous giver may become available.

The Atheneum will provide at once a needed faculty club and a meeting place for distinguished men in all branches of research and learning. The staffs of the Huntington Library and of Mt. Wilson Observatory, institutions affiliated with the institute, will be given through it an opportunity for interchange of ideas with members of the faculties of other colleges and universities in the vicinity. It will also become a publishing center, through which much new knowledge may be expected to reach the world.

The membership personnel to give this Atheneum outstanding importance is already here, not only in the educators whom Dr. R. A. Millikan has drawn around him at the institute, but among the faculties of other institutions and in private life. There are men in Southern California almost as distinguished in their lines as Dr. Millikan in his, and the opportunity the Atheneum will give them to establish a clearinghouse of culture and knowledge means much for Southern California.

DAYS OF LONG AGO
 Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution who have been digging up cadavers in Florida and other points East indicate the belief that there were men in this country in the Pleistocene age. This roughly covers the glacial period and the height of the opening, and, being, it had to be born with ear muffs. Maybe they went to Florida on account of cold feet and then stayed there until the season got them. However, this is said to have been nearly a million years ago, so that it is hard to say what did happen. Anyhow, none of them left any forwarding address. If they had had sense enough to come to California they might be living yet.

IL FENSIERO
 By James J. Montague
 A naturalist declares that cats cannot think. You live on milk which I supply. You warm yourself beside my fire. You need not toil nor spin to buy. The comforts that you so desire. With all that one can ask of life. Upon your chair you bask and blink. Aloof from caring care and strife. And yet they say you do not think!

Well may the wisest birds that fly. For swift and instant flight prepare. When you come calmly strolling by. For fear you'll take them unaware. You seem so innocent of guile. Your eyes half closed, as one in sleep. Yet you are plotting all the while. For that long, devastating leap.

The dog may chase you up a tree. But if you're in a fighting mood. Extremely sorry he may be. That he was indiscreet and rude. For if you choose to stand at bay. A long staccato strident yelp. The dismal tidings will convey. That Rover needs a lot of help.

I hear your loud and pleasant purr. I watch your sassy shoulders shrug. The while you ruffle up your fur. And stretch yourself upon the rug. I see you empty many a dish. Of viands, all of which are free. And as I gaze on you I wish. My thinking got as much for me!

Marvels of Psychology
 The other day we said something a little irreverent about professional psychoanalysts, but we'll have to apologize. Yesterday, attracted by the very unusual architecture of a building not far from Echo Park, we made bold to ring and ask for some explanation of certain features which appeared to have been designed especially to challenge interest and even curiosity. The person who answered our ring vanished a few moments, then returned and handed us an envelope, all ready for addressing and mailing, which would tell all about it, she said.

The literature revealed that the building was the headquarters of a great and learned psychologist who had started a worldwide organization to make successes out of previous failures. The main essential to success, it appears from that literature, is a $5-a-year membership.

Knew We Were Coming
 The most astonishing evidence of the exceptional psychic, not to say supernatural, powers the organization imparted to its members, for the small sum of five bucks yearly, was that the envelope contained a personal letter, not addressed to us by name, it is true, but quite clearly intended for us. "A personal friend of yours," the letter began, "has recommended you as a person of sterling qualities, high ambitions and unusual powers of a mental and financial success." That's us all over. "Acting on this request we have taken the liberty of interesting ourselves in your behalf. "And the letter was signed by the great psychologist!

Now, isn't that almost uncanny? Before noting the odd architecture we hadn't the slightest idea of ever visiting that place. Yet some "personal friend" of ours, who already was a member and had therefore been gifted with psychic powers beyond our ken, had foreseen our call and prepared for us.

For of course it's unthinkable that the great psychologist had those letters prepared by the thousand, ready to send out to what promoters crazily expect "the sucker" to be.

Isn't it marvelous?

The Saving Word
 PARADISE, May 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The discharge of defendants in the Julian case by a jury is very similar to a case in the Federal court, a few years ago, by a jury of which I was a member. Two men charged with conspiracy to swindle the people by a sale of stocks and bonds on time payment, which, when completed, the purchasers never received, resulted in an acquittal because the conspiracy part of the indictment had not been proven. The jury all agreed the defendants had been grievously defrauded, but held that the conspiracy part of the indictment had not been proven. In drawing indictments, that word "conspiracy" be omitted, and the persons involved be simply charged with defrauding or swindling. A conviction would be secured in every case.

Sickened Expensive
 LOS ANGELES, May 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] [To the Editor of The Times:] Los Angeles is a pretty town to look at, said an experienced easterner here one day. "But a mighty sick place to get sick in or to die in. Between your hospitals with pious names and bandit charges," he went on, "a sick man of small income must be prepared to lose all he has got to go to the county as a pauper. There must be a lot to this cry, when in almost every home or circle one may enter and the word 'hospital' is mentioned, a dozen tales will be told of specified and outrageous charges that the unfortunate sick have had to pay.

There is no remedy for such conditions and for such a reputation? Will not some philanthropic millionaire build a hospital in Los Angeles where a sick one can be treated and not have his pockets turned wrong side out? Such a hospital need not have all the hundred fur-below and marble fixings, etc., that are put in so many hospitals now only to please the doctors and the specialists."

Slogan Suggested
 INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.), May 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I want to say the one thing I enjoyed most while in Los Angeles was The Times paper. Please allow me to suggest a slogan. My slogan is "Tomorrow's Times Out Today."

Baleyn Ungranted
 LONG BEACH, May 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The item in Monday's issue re the City Hall memorial room and lower level was the first intimation I had such a wonderful experience was available, and yesterday I lost no time in taking advantage of it. It was truly impressive and thoroughly enjoyable.

One disturbing thought intruded, however. It may seem pessimistic to some, but experience elsewhere proves it not unfounded. How soon will it be before some weak-willed or unbalanced person huris himself from this balcony? On two sides an easy leap would clear the ledge and the first intimation I had of the Los Angeles City Hall tower is only breath high. It could be continued the full height of the opening, and, being, it would be a beautiful ornamental would in no wise mar the beauty.

Here's hoping that the city of Los Angeles will take measures to prevent this kind of a thing. The ornamental railing now surrounding the Los Angeles City Hall tower is only breath high. It could be continued the full height of the opening, and, being, it would be a beautiful ornamental would in no wise mar the beauty.

Here's hoping that the city of Los Angeles will take measures to prevent this kind of a thing. The ornamental railing now surrounding the Los Angeles City Hall tower is only breath high. edy at the Pantages Playhouse.

WAR'S HORRORS GOAD HIM TO EXPRESSION
"Hotel Imperial," now being produced at the Egan Theater by the Famous Players, is first and foremost a plea for peace. This statement is made by Lajos Biro, the Hungarian playwright who is responsible for the work.

POLLY'S PAST WILL BE HELD TO LIGHT
Elizabeth Wilson
When "Polly With A Past," the comedy in which Ina Claire appeared with such success some seasons back, is presented by the Martin Oatman Players on Wednesday and Thursday, Elizabeth Wilson will be seen as Polly.

Girl Forsakes Home for Love in Fox Fantasy
"Fasil," the Fox picture which is to have a premiere Friday evening, at the Carthay Circle Theater, with Charles Farrell and Greta Nissen featured, rivals the story of the Seattle girl who recently married an East Indian Maharajah, gave up her home, customs and religion to adopt those of her husband.

Nazimova Will be at Orpheum With "Expose" Nazimova, the Russian star of stage and screen, will appear as headliner at the Orpheum starting tomorrow matinee in an adaptation of "Mother India," by Katherine Mayo, which was done by Edgar Allan Woolf and Fanny Harris Friend.

French-Maid Role Proves Her Nemesis
Paulette Goddard, both as the charming French maid in "Pom-ander Walk," at the Hollywood Play House, and as an actress, has a great complaint to utter. "I have been in the theater for five years now," she said, "and no producer has seen me as anything else but a French maid."

Star Rehearses Fourth Comedy
Following their policy of producing a new play every month, the Hortons have decided on the next one, and the first reading of it took place Wednesday. Maude Pul-ton sat in the director's chair. She will appear in the cast of the new production, as will Lois Wilson and Miss Marvin are the other two women, and Mitchell Harris and Fergus Reddie have roles.

DIRECTOR'S TWO RUN SUCCESSFULLY HERE
Alan Crosland is having one novel experience of seeing one of his productions following another at a local theater.

YOUR BABY AND MINE
By Myrtle Meyer Elford
Mrs. Elford will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Question: Mrs. G. H. writes: "I am 15 years of age. My symptoms are terrible backache, pain down my left side, especially below the heart, also in my left arm. On arising I feel as though I had passed through a bad illness; I am so weak and tired I would like to stay in bed all day. Of late I am troubled with constipation, for the first time in my life, with a slight attack of itching piles. The pains in your left arm and side probably come from gas pressure against your heart. This would make you feel tired in the morning. Try a course of enemas for a month, using two enemas daily. In the meantime, correct your diet so that it is not gas-forming. Also, after the month's treatment with internal bathing, I am sure your constipation will be over and the itching will disappear. As we do let us see."

FORMULAS FOR SOUR-MILK FEEDINGS (By Request)
It is the duty of a mother to understand why she is feeding her child certain foods, even if she has a doctor to guide her every step of the way. There is still no excuse for her being ignorant as to the how and why of feeding. But, in the matter of artificial feeding of very young babies we are a thorough conservative. The mother should work with the doctor and follow his advice until the baby is well established on any strange food. It is a dangerous thing for a mother to mix up a bottle of milk perhaps as she fixed it for her older child, or like some neighbor's formula, without knowing something of the needs of her particular child. The younger the child the more dangerous is this proceeding.

Yesterdays Hand as played by Mr. Whitehead
Hand No. 186
South is the bidder. What is the proper bid and why?

Salient Points of the Bidding
South's pre-emptive bid of three Spades was conventional. West's double was made with the expectation that his partner would use his judgment as to whether to make a bid or pass. That is, the double of a pre-emptive bid of three of a suit gives partner the option. East, without a defensive trick in his hand against a Spade bid, bids four Diamonds in preference to his exceptionally weak four-card Heart.

Swapped First Kiss for Vow to Wed, She Says
Until she was 22 years old Florence Brass had never been kissed. This biographical item developed yesterday in Judge Brown's court where her suit against Ernest Gagnon, real estate man, for damages of $75,000 for asserted breach of promise, is on trial.

TWO HELD FOR TRIAL IN THEFT OF MACHINES
Florin Finell and Jack Chronister, accused of stealing four power sewing machines from a shop in which they were employed at 1134 South Main street and selling them, must stand trial in Superior Court on a charge of grand theft. Testimony of Marjorie Quigley, handwriting expert, that the handwriting on a bill of sale which they gave with the machines was that of the accused was sufficient evidence to hold them for trial. Municipal Judge decided. Bail was set at $1200 each.

NANCY PAGE
Flower Girl and Page Add to Wedding Pageant
By Florence La Gamba

The little boy who was the page at Lola's wedding and Joan who was the flower girl were crying on their costumes and going through their parts. Nancy's stern and sensible rule that picture costumes were not for little children was abrogated for the wedding. This is the one time when picture clothes are permitted. They have to be worn to make the youngsters fit into the pageantry of a wedding. A boy trimmed the georgette hat as well.

JAIL METED TO YOUTH WHO IGNORES COURT
Failing to appear in Traffic Court to answer charges of violation of the traffic ordinances yesterday cost Everett Judd, 18 years of age, of 1822 West Fourteenth street, a two-day jail sentence in addition to fines for the violations. The sentence was imposed by Municipal Judge Hardy after Judd had been brought into court on a bench warrant.

DAPPER PAIR ROB BANK OF ABOUT $1000
Youths Hold Up Branch at Eighth and Federa Streets and Flee in Auto
A dapper young man, wearing a bright ribboned straw hat, handed a $5 bill to Teller W. W. Cookman at the Eighth and Federa streets branch of the California Bank yesterday afternoon and asked for change. When Cookman began to count out the money he found himself looking into a blue steel revolver. Besides the $5 in change he then handed out $1000 in currency, all the till contained.

County Farm's Inmates Enjoy Annual Picnic
Picnic lunches and entertainment brightened the lives of the 186 inmates of the Los Angeles County Farm at Downey when the County and City Mission Society of the local Episcopal Diocese conducted its fourth annual program yesterday afternoon.

Divorce Sought by Daughter of Richard Bennett
Mrs. Joan Bennett Fox, daughter of Richard Bennett, stage actor, yesterday filed suit for divorce against John Marion Fox. The complaint was filed on the ground of cruelty and incompatibility by Attorneys Young and Young. Mrs. Fox is a sister of Constance Bennett and resides in Beverly Hills. A daughter was born to Mrs. Fox on February 22, last.
